Our clinical staff specialize in the outpatient treatment of adolescents and young adults with substance abuse and mental health issues.

They offer a counseling process that involves individual, group or family counseling on a weekly basis, along with multiple parent education classes. Also included with services is random drug testing throughout the week.

In our program, each session has a specific purpose in the structured process of decreasing denial and guiding a person toward recovery.

It is recognized that almost all drug-users begin treatment without the motivation to change. Our first task is to help them develop a greater recognition of their problem, and to support a growing motivation for change.
